

The following key terms will be used to refer to all persons and stakeholders involved in Leadathon 2016:

Private Candidate: Students who are registering independently outside of any academic institutions.

Team: A group of two or more students (max 5) representing an academic institution at the conference.

Active Participant: All children (ages 7-13) attending Leadathon 2016 and actively taking part in its itinerary and activities.

Mentor: An adult accompanying a child to the conference. The mentor(s) can be one or both parents or a teacher. Mentors will not be charged any attendance/observer charges.

Siblings: Brothers and sisters of active participants. Siblings discount applies only to active participants in the conference.

Observer: Siblings or relatives wishing to accompany participants to the conference but not in the capacity of a participant or mentor. Please note that all persons wishing to be observers at the three day conference will be charged attendance fees and that their attendance is conditional upon availability of space. Children under 5 who attend the conference will not be charged.

Active E-mail: An active e-mail is an online mail account that all mentors will be required to check once a day after completing the registration process. This will act as a communication bridge between the event coordinators and active participants outside the event proceedings.
