Consent

There is an implied consent that the personal data provided* to Cameo Youth representatives is correct. There is also an implied consent that the active participants allow the organizers to process the given data for registration purposes. All active participants must understand that this information may be made available to representatives and agents working with the organizers to host the Cameo Youth.

 For every participant: first name, last name, e-mail address, contact details, identification information, tracking of all actions performed in the online registration system, record of any communication sent from Cameo Youth [relevant* medical details /information relating to a disability of which Cameo Youth organizers should be aware, to enable Cameo Youth organizers to ensure each participant can attend and participate at the camp].

The camp can be subject to Press and Media presence. By registering for the camp, you are giving your implied consent for documentation of the activities.

Acting and Dramatics entails safe but much needed interaction of both genders. By registering for the camp, you are giving your implied consent for your child's co-working with both genders.

The camp might be relocated to a safe and pre-announced location for the last few sessions to give the students a taste of street performance. By registering for the camp, you are giving your implied consent that your child can perform at an outdoor venue. If you have issue with a particular venue, that concern will be catered to. However, it would not be possible to challenge the notion of an outdoor performance after registration.

Behavior Policy

Facilitators at Cameo Youth reserve the right to refuse admission to any session if a participant or his/her mentor's behavior jeopardizes the safety or learning of other active participants, staff or Cameo Youth representatives. No refund will be forthcoming nor will the Certificate of Attendance be issued.

Certification Policy

Certificates of attendance will be issued only to participants who attend all scheduled sessions throughout the camp. Within a week after the event, mentors will be notified via email upon which they can visit the Edopia premises at their earliest convenience to collect the certificates of attendance.

Safety policy

All personnel involved with Cameo Youth are committed to staying constantly vigilant and extremely conscious on all matters regarding the safety and security of your child. The management accepts responsibility for providing a safe environment and basic first aid for all present at the camp and all active participants and observers are expected to take responsibility for performing work in accordance with safe standards and practices provided by the Host Team.

Cameo Youth organizers, representatives and agents are not responsible or liable for the safety and property of active participants or their companions, nor for any financial losses incurred if events are cancelled due to reasons beyond Cameo Youth.

In case of any unforeseen accidents, terrorist/political activities, natural calamities or acts of God beyond the control of Cameo Youth organizers, the Cameo Youth management and representatives will not be held responsible.

Travelling to and from the camp shall take place under the participants' sole responsibility. The Cameo Youth organizers cannot be held responsible for any disturbance that occurs en route to or outside the premises of Edopia. Only legal guardians, who have their names registered with the camp will be allowed to pick up the children. If anyone other than the parents is coming to pick up the child, he/she must carry a letter of authorization signed by the parents.

Any disputes arising with respect to or in connection with the registration and participation in this event shall be finally settled by one arbitrator in accordance with the regulations set forth by Cameo Youth organizers and representatives.
